Deputies charge three in drug investigation

BY CHRIS BROOKE
editor@hclocal.com

Law enforcement officials arrested three individuals named in sealed indictments Oct. 10 in Eminence as part of an ongoing illegal drug investigation, according to Sheriff Danny Cravens.

Henry County deputies received assistance from Kentucky State Police troopers, Eminence Police Department and the Owen County Sheriff's Office canine unit.

The names of those charged appeared in the Henry County Sheriff's Office weekly arrest records. They include:

- Cristina Laine Jones, 28, Pleasureville – arrested by Deputy Dean Murray for two counts of trafficking in a controlled substance, meth, possession of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia
- Mark T. McClanahan, 25, La Grange– arrested by Deputy Keith Perry for trafficking in a controlled substance, meth and trafficking in a controlled substance, heroin
- Tramaine Watson, 35, Eminence– arrested by Deputy Murray for trafficking in a controlled substance, possession of heroin

Deputies made two arrests in the vicinity of South Penn and Elm streets and searched a vehicle near Jackson and Sulphur.

The grand jury issued the indictments at its Sept. 26 term, and they were sealed by the court until those named could be arrested.

This investigation began about nine months ago, Cravens said. Law enforcement officers spent much of Friday making the arrests, searching vehicles and homes

Berea to celebrate 175 years

BY CHRIS BROOKE
editor@hclocal.com

Attendance at Berea Christian Church Disciples of Christ will swell Oct. 19 when the little congregation celebrates the church's 175th anniversary.

When Elijah Clubb had "doctrinal differences" with then-Drennon's Ridge Baptist Church, Berea formed in 1839 and received a donation of land to build on from Clubb in 1840, according to Pastor Barbara Minton, who wrote a 61-page history on the church in time for its anniversary.

Berea is the second oldest Disciples of Christ congregation in Henry County.

"In reading through the minutes, I got to know the people of the church quite well," she said. "It was an exciting and emotional journey."

Minton got attached to the person who opened the business meeting with prayer each month for years. "I grieved his death even though it was back in the 1990s some time."

Then there was the 1895 minister who left after just a few months, but wrote a letter back asking the church to pay him money owed by Christmas. Church records showed the members decided to pay five cents a month "or as much as they feel disposed" until the debt was retired.

As a facility, the church has seen a lot of additions and changes over the years, including forsaking the outhouse for indoor plumbing in 2000, according to Elder Bill Smith. But the foundations of the original church remain on the same site where the front

Campbellsburg Baptist releases archery ministry

Campbellsburg Baptist Church has targeted a new outreach ministry that will hone the participant's archery skills, beginning Oct. 16.

"It's a gospel-centered ministry," said Pastor Shawn Golden. "Our main focus is Christ. The majority of the time will be spent in archery."

Participants in CenterShot can learn to use a live compound bow to build their skills to the point where archery comes naturally.

Speaking from experience, Golden said the structure of the training can take a complete novice and show the trainee how to hit the target in a short time.

Golden first got interested in archery ministry back in February at the Kentucky Baptist Convention. After that, church officials worked with Campbellsburg City Council offi-

Court gives Truman probation

BY MELISSA BLANKENSHIP
publisher@hclocal.com

The 69-year-old woman who pleaded guilty to attempt to solicit murder was sentenced to five years probation Thursday in Circuit Court.

Shirley Truman, of New Castle, had originally been charged with solicitation to murder following her arrest in December of last year when she met with an undercover police officer in Henry County to discuss her plan to harm her ex-husband, Donnie Trail.

While meeting at a gas station in Pendleton, Truman gave the undercover officer written directions to Trail's home and provided a physical description of him and information about his vehicle, according to police reports.

She even accompanied the officer to Trail's apartment to show the officer exactly where he lived.

The charge carries a maximum sentence of 10 years, but in accordance with the plea agreement, Truman will be on probation for five years having been credited for time served.

She will have to report to a probation officer, attend and complete a psychiatric treatment program, have no unlawful contact with Trail, incur no probation violations or new offenses and have no contact with any inmate.

Judge Karen Conrad waived Truman's court costs as the woman lost her disability payments while incarcerated. She will however, be required to pay a $10 per month supervision fee.

In other court cases:

- Robert Eric Price, 45, pleaded guilty to three counts of unlawful transaction with a minor, amended down from three counts of sexual abuse, first degree.

Both offenses are class D felonies that could carry one to five years in prison.

In agreeing to this plea deal, Price admitted to "inappropriate touching" of the victim, who was 13 at the time. In her statements to the police, the victim said that Price had sexually abused her on three separate

Haunted jail to offer Halloween scares

BY STAFF
news@hclocal.com

Johnson and Co. Flooring Sales and Installation will host “Prisoners of the Asylum” this Halloween night at the former Eminence jailhouse downtown. The haunted jail will be a frightening guided tour free to the public, and all ages are welcome... if they dare.

Chad Johnson, owner, has loved Halloween for as long as he can remember, and began working haunted houses a few years ago when he helped out at a house on Vernon Avenue in Eminence.

“We had a huge success last year with the Vernon Avenue haunted house. My girlfriend’s son, Brandon Graves, a fifth-grader, came up with the idea of collecting food for the local animal shelters and humane societies as admission, and we had about 400 people show up,” Johnson said.

Johnson became hooked on haunted houses and knew that this year had to be bigger. He and his girlfriend, Angela Graves, spent their weekends traveling to haunted houses, where they get a lot of ideas.

ideas come to life!” he said.

The old jailhouse holds tales of terror that once occurred in the building, such as a shooting and a fire at one point in time.

“We’ve heard lots of stories about things that have happened here at the jail,” Johnson said. “And if you do your research, you can probably find more”.

The history of the jailhouse promises a frightening experience to its visitors. Long-time natives of Eminence know of the old jailhouse, but Johnson once discovered it again after the loss of the old store on Main Street due to the recent fire.

“We began to look to the location here on Penn Avenue,” Johnson said on searching for the right spot. “We knew right away what we would do with the jailhouse since Halloween was right around the corner.”

The “haunt” is guided and caters to different ages.

“If you’re brave enough then come on out!” Johnson said. “We have exits for those who can’t make it all the way through. We are not your average neighborhood haunted house anymore. We now have some high tech props and costumes.” Johnson plans on doing the haunted house for a long time.

“We want to make it a tradition for all the locals,” he added.

Johnson anticipates a great time for everyone who comes out.

“We will provide candy to all the little ones. Everyone bring a friend and come on out and celebrate Halloween with us.”

The haunted house begins at 6:30 p.m. on Halloween night at 22 South Penn Avenue in Eminence. Use the back entrance behind Subway. Parking is limited.

For more information, call Johnson and Co. at (502) 706-1403 or (502) 287-7123.

occasions by “putting his hands down her pants and rubbing her vagina.”

In the agreement, Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Melanie Carroll recommended that Price serve five years with all counts to run concurrent for a total of five years and she objected to the case being probated.

Other conditions included Price has no contact with the victim and no unsupervised contact with minors and that he agrees to be assessed for sexual addictions/abuse and follow all treatment recommendations with said assessment to occur upon his release for any reason prior to serving out time.

Under the lesser amended charges, Price will not be obligated to register as a sex offender. He is currently being held in Carroll County and will officially be sentenced on Nov. 13 at 9 a.m.

• Although Donald Austin Broughton, 26, has been assigned a trial date of March 10, the prosecution and defense in the case hope to reach a settlement before then.

“An offer has been made (by the Commonwealth), and we’ll prepare a counter offer,” said Broughton’s attorney Ken McCardewll. “We’re just not together yet on it.”

Broughton’s charges include attempted murder, robbery in the first degree and burglary in the first degree. They stem from an incident on May 6, 2013 when Broughton allegedly forced his way into the Bethlehem home of Christopher Cooper and assaulted him with “a spindle from the deck rail, a homemade machete and a kitchen knife that he brought with him and used to open the front door,” according to the original citation. Cooper, who was 29 at the time of the attack, managed to get out of the house and flag down a passing motorist, while Broughton allegedly fled the scene.

Cooper was taken to the University of Louisville Hospital with severe lacerations to his head and stab wounds to his torso.

Broughton is being held in the Carroll County Detention Center, where he has been incarcerated for 18 months. His next court date is December 11, at which time attorneys in the case might announce a plea agreement.

“If we can’t resolve it in December, we’ll have three months to prepare for the trial,” McCardewll said.

doors face a farm field across Franklinton Road. Over the decades, Berea hosted many students from Lexington Theological Seminary, serving as a training ground for new pastors who typically stayed for only two years. Smith expects many of the former pastors who went to other churches in Kentucky to return for the celebration. Minton gave her first sermon in the church March 4 two years ago, after she and her husband, also a pastor, relocated from Missouri. For that visit, Elder Carl Wells contacted her and asked her to take a turn at “filling the pulpit,” but the relationship soon became a permanent one. Minton can remember well her first time preaching on March fourth, because she joked it’s the only day of the year that’s also a command. After the service at the church’s board meeting, Wells turned to the congregation and asked if they wanted to keep Minton on as their pastor, and everybody nodded their heads yes. The meeting seems pre-ordained for both Minton and the congregation. “The school in Lexington stopped being a campus — it started being an online seminary — so they didn’t have anyone on campus they could send out,” Minton said. “My husband and I were both ordained pastors, and he was called to service at Eminence Christian Church Disciples of Christ. I was hoping to find a congregation in Henry County, that a congregation would call on me.” Elders Smith and Wells serve as connections to the origin of the church as they’re both descended from William Wells, one of the founders. Member Roberta Clubb Adcock is descended from Elijah Clubb. Smith has been attending since 1962 when his father bought a farm in the community. Many of his teachers at nearby Eastern Elementary also sat next to him in the pews on Sunday mornings. At one time five out of the eight teachers also joined Berea. Persevering from horse-and-buggy days, Berea continues to serve the community, though it has lost many members from attrition and from the youth who grew up attending the church who left to find work, Minton and Smith said. From the 1940s, when Don Slaughter pastored the Disciples of Christ Church, about 150 made up the congregation. Smith, said today, attendance could reach around 15, higher when the church holds its monthly meal. “We’re so small, we’re a tight little group, but our doors are open to anyone,” Smith said. “This congregation is small in number, but they are actually the most Christian congregation I have served because they love one another and they reach out to the community, and they live consciously in the community,” Minton said. The congregation faithfully collect and supply toiletries to the Henry County Help Center, for example. They also raise up Eden Children’s Village in Zimbabwe in prayer, provide individual support for some of the children there and make donations of clothes, toys and school supplies. Minton took it upon herself to fill in the history of the church from the last 25 years. One new bit of information she hopes to learn is who has been anonymously decorating the church’s front door, inviting them to come out for the celebration. “A couple of months ago somebody came and put a new wreath on our door — it was a spring/summer wreath. We have no idea who did it,” Minton said. “A couple weeks ago they came and replaced it with an autumn wreath. We’d like to thank them for the wreath. We would love to meet them and express it in person.” Berea Christian Church Disciple of Christ plans a full day of meeting and greeting for its Oct. 19 celebration, beginning with visiting over coffee and donuts at 9:30 a.m., worship with open communion at 11 a.m., a simple meal at 12:30 p.m. and the celebration remembrances and worship at 2:30 p.m. RSVPs are requested for lunch by calling (502) 667-3092.

cials to earn the approval for the archery range and its use in the city limits at the church. Following the main character’s use of a bow in the popular book and movie, “The Hunger Games,” growth in archery has exploded, which has led to the ministry being busy, too. “Center Shot has really grown due to the extensive interest in archery in the last four years — they can hardly keep up,” Golden said. “It is a Christ-centered ministry. The tag line is ‘making Christ the target of our lives.’” During the hour-and-a-half ministry, participants will take a break after 30 minutes to hear a devotional based on Center Shot activities, he explained. The devotional theme could riff off aiming in archery, but expand to what your aim is in your life. With owning the bows, Golden foresees this ministry going on for a long time. “There are prepared devotionals that come with the book, but we plan on doing this for years, so we plan on coming up with our own.” The ministry is available to everyone. The class can accept up to 24 people. “Anyone who can pull the bow back, it’s open to them,” Golden said. “The first night we’ll have them shooting in 30 minutes.” The ministry teaches archery in steps, but Golden has seen quick results. When he first learned at Center Shot, the pastor won a game that involved scoring 21 on the target. “That’s the beauty of it — in 30 minutes, I was able to place my shot.” The program will take place at the church, except in cases of inclement weather, where Campbellsburg Elementary will let the group use its gym/lunch room. Golden appreciated everyone who contributed to creating the ministry, including the church members and the city council. “I gotta give props to our church for support of a new ministry, and the people who have volunteered to help have been great,” he said. “Let the Word of God speak to today is what we’re trying to do,” Golden added. “With Christ as the target of your life, you can’t miss.” The classes start Oct. 16 at 6 p.m. at the church.

Combattling the decline of local quail

One hope I held for my time in the wide-open spaces of Henry County involved the possibility of hearing a familiar cry.

It pleased and surprised me to no end to catch the whistled call of “Bob White! Bob White!” during a return visit to Olney, Ill., while showing my wife around where I used to live in the Prairie State.

Picking up on this fowl vocalization surprised me for three reasons: Olney is one of the cities in the Midwest better known for its white squirrel population than its gamebirds; I hadn’t heard any such calls when I lived there for two years; and bobwhite often ranks near the top of the list on Audubon’s Common Birds in Decline.

Since the conservation agency began keeping track in 1967, the number of northern bobwhites has plummeted more than 80 percent.

I have a fond memory of our old Ford Galaxie 500 swinging into Grandpa and Grandma’s farm once located in Delaware County, Ohio, and flushing a covey of quail into the air from the fencerow in an explosion of rustling wings.

Much to my disappointment, Henry County isn’t the busy breeding ground for quail that I’d hoped, despite the many green farm fields and the beautiful Kentucky River Wildlife Management Area.

On his Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources blog, small game biologist Ben Robinson uncovered one contributor to the quail decline.

He called the epidemic “Recreational Mowing Syndrome,” or RMS.

This syndrome expresses itself through “an insatiable desire to hop on the tractor with mower in tow and ride for hours making sure no blade of grass stays above three inches tall,” he wrote. The disease arises from “an innate yearning for manicured landscapes.”

This “bush-hog love” can prove disastrous for bobwhite quail as they need taller prairie grass and shrubby landscapes to thrive. The typical lawn with its Astroturf imitation does nothing to promote the survival of the species.

What’s the cure in regard to assisting with the bird’s recovery? Robinson counsels landowners with potentially wild plots to throttle back.

“In the past, landowners didn’t have the time or money to spend on mowing,” he wrote. “If they weren’t using a field for crops, cattle or hay, they left it alone until it was needed.”

Allow these idle areas to push up the weeds that quail so desperately need, Robinson suggests to Kentuckians interested in seeing more quail. Show some restraint and a covey may adopt your property as home.

Even those without large lots can participate in bringing quail back by taking such actions as buying a specialty bobwhite license plate or joining a conservation organization, he wrote in another blog.

In the meantime, my best bet to see and hear a bobwhite involves heading to one of the designated recovery focus areas to hunt them down.

Usually, I’d only be taking shots with my Nikon D-200. As that would miss capturing the most nostalgic part — the bird’s call — I might have to hunt with a video camera, too.

Letters to the Editor

Supporting Brent

For over 20 years, I have served on the Henry County Board of Health. The board is made up of members of the local medical community, government and members at large. I am on the board with Judge-Executive John Logan Brent and Ricky Doyle, who is a candidate for Judge-Executive. I want to take time to clarify some information about the Health Board’s 2014-15 expected property tax revenue. In both a recent editorial in the paper and a Doyle campaign flyer, there are statements suggesting that there will be “a 12.8 percent decrease (in health board tax revenue), due to a decrease in population, empty homes and lost tax dollars. In just one fiscal year.”

The Henry County PVA put a correction in the paper stating revenues would be up about 1 percent for 2014-15. None of this has to do with the tax rate because we left it the same as last year. Regardless of what numbers we were given at the health board meeting, common sense would tell you, the county has not shrunk by 12.8 percent in one year. Being a retired educator and administrator with the school system, I took an interest in another stat on the same handout. It talks about enrollment trends going down. I assume these stats were put there to say that the county isn’t growing fast enough. Those of us who have been involved in education know that enrollment has a lot more to do with how many babies are being born than how many people are moving into the county. The big farm family is no longer the norm in Henry County and teenagers are having fewer children. Families in general are getting smaller.

Empty houses and enrollment numbers don’t have much to do with county leaders either. They have a whole lot to do with the national economy and our country’s current culture. I have been in this county most of my life and have personally known most of our elected officials. I have known both John Logan Brent and Ricky Doyle since they were very young men. When it comes to the choice of leading the county there is a clear choice and that is John Logan Brent. He is bright, honest and hardworking. He knows people in Frankfort and has gotten a lot of money for the county. He and Peggy Bryant do a good job managing the budget and that is no easy job. Folks, let’s not change a good thing.

In support of Feeley

I wanted to tell others of my experience with Judge Feeley and had intended to do it before any election campaign was going on.

I moved back to Oldham County after 30 years and brought my adopted daughter from North Carolina with me. She is a special needs child that had become violent in our home and I could no longer handle her. I went through the agonizing decision to move her to Mary Hurst where she could receive much needed treatment and counseling. However, the legal process of doing so was very complicated. With the help of a local attorney and Judge Feeley, I was able to help my daughter and our family. Judge Feeley took the time and made a true effort to listen to all sides, not just mine, as he had the welfare of my daughter in mind.

It would have been easy for him to make a decision quickly but he took the time needed to make an informed decision. His common sense direction was evident and he moved as quickly as possible through the system.

My daughter now lives at the Apple Patch Community, is doing great and we see each other numerous times during the week! Thank you Judge Feeley for your part in making this possible.

— Mindy Parrish-Klemen, Campbellsburg

Doyle best choice

I am often asked why do you care what goes on in Henry County, you don’t live here anymore. I answer with: my children grew up here; I own real estate in the county and I have volunteered and still volunteer many hours of service in the fire departments and community organizations. So I am deeply invested in Henry County. That is why I am concerned about the upcoming election.

So I am writing to give another side of the current administration of county judge-executive. Twelve years ago when the present administration came into office, a group of Henry County Republicans had a unique opportunity to develop an economic need assessments for Governor Fletcher. Such items were sewers, Pleasureville water tower, state highway 146 (which Henry County students initiated), a fire department/community building for Lake Jericho and internet connectivity. As each of these items (plus many more) was completed, the current administration claimed it had accomplished all of these even though it was the work of committed individuals who were not a part of the administration. I know this for a fact because I was a part of the Republican team. Over $60,000,000 were placed in our county for economic development.

In the beginning, I worked with the current administration because I believed it was the right change for Henry County. But it did not take long to see that people with opposing ideas about issues were not invited to serve on committees or boards. Since the current administration’s environment seems to promote teamwork as long as everyone agrees with the county judge, the county’s growth will stagnate because a few people do not have all of the answers.

In my many years serving as the Chief of Operations Officer for Kentucky Emergency Management, I learned to respect opposing views because it could impact the outcome of life and death for the citizens of Kentucky. A sign of true leadership and maturity is recognizing your shortcomings and listening to other viewpoints. This is a trait that I have seen in Mr. Ricky Doyle, the Republican opponent. He has repeatedly said that “if I don’t know the answer, I will find someone who does.” I respect someone who admits that he does not have all of the answers.

In this election there have been inferences that Ricky Doyle, Republican opponent, might be an embarrassment to the county and not too sure that he can handle the budget. If I recall 12 years ago Henry County had a young candidate who probably had not dealt with a $6 million budget nor were we sure that he was capable of performing the job, but he was given the opportunity. Humility trumps arrogance every time.

Applauding Campbellsburg's community center

As I look back on my years with the Chamber, I am always amazed at the changes that have taken place.

One of the best happenings is the new community center in downtown Campbellsburg.

Several years ago I was working on a county wide brochure, and I had a difficult time trying to find a landmark for that city.

Today the town has a beautiful center, a train playground and more features ("train depot" picnic shelter) being added.

If you are looking for a place to have an event, you should consider this beautiful building.

The huge main room rents for $150 for an all-day event with set-up and tear down included in the rental fee. As a person who can no longer do heavy lifting, this is a great advantage.

A smaller room is also available for gatherings that do not need a lot of space.

No need to clean the house for bunco, showers, or other such events. This room is available for $50.

You do not have to be a Campbellsburg resident to use the facility, but a discount is available to city residents.

Perhaps you are look-

PAT*wallace*
Henry County Chamber of Commerce

ing for a place to have a birthday party for your child?

The train just outside the door is one of the cutest playgrounds I have ever seen.

For older children the big room can be set up with table tennis and/or basketball.

The Chamber dinner was held there last week, and I was most impressed with the help from community center coordinator Andrea Johnson. You can reach her at 532-0070 or email ajohnson@cityof-campbellsburg.org.

news:

We are pleased to welcome The Berry Center to the Chamber. They are located at 111 South Main in New Castle.

The Berry Center is a non-profit organization dedicated to putting Wendell Berry's writings to work by advocating for farmers, land conserving communities and healthy regional economies.

The Berry Center is a repository for information to be used for the study of small farm agriculture.

Making the work of the Berry family available to researchers and scholars interested in the history of farming and agrarianism in Kentucky is one of the main goals of the Berry Center.

Thousands of articles, photographs, papers and speeches are being processed and preserved with the intention of institutionalizing the principled thinking that was a fixed ideal in the Berry family.

The Center is a place for study, writing and reflection.

The Berry Center wishes to help bring information to the central issue of our time: a healthy and sustainable agriculture in this country.

Giving people an opportunity to study and learn from the past in order to shape a future for our farms is high on the list of priorities for the Center.

They support a culture of good farming and land use, and want to create a culture that will support these ideals. Two years ago The Berry Center and St. Catharine College forged a partnership to create The Berry Farming and Ecological Agrarianism Program, an interdisciplinary, ecology-based degree program and education for homecoming.

The program is designed with students from multi-generational farming families in mind and offers an alternative to the land-grant model.

Giving back to our own home place is high on their list as well. They are opening The Bookstore at the Berry Center for people interested in rural art and culture.

Located in the Pearce Cabin in the middle of New Castle, the bookstore will feature agrarian and Kentucky authors, broadsides, cookbooks and "Charley's Collection" of children's books.

It will highlight the integration of the art, science and philosophy of agrarianism in the culture.

It will become a meeting place for local leaders, farmers and businessmen who want to start or attract businesses that support a sustainable local food system.

A major goal has been putting together a Burley Program Working Group and on Dec. 4 it will begin its work to see how the Producers' Program can be used to again protect farmers from over production, stabilize rural communities and make possible an economy of cooperation, not competition — this time with an economy based on food and forestry.

Much can be learned from the essential and influential work of the Berry family and the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association.

Mary Berry, Executive Director of the Berry Center, spends much of her time traveling, speaking and writing as well as attending conferences across the country to bring awareness to these issues.

I thank Mary for providing the information I have shared with our readers.

For more information, call 502-845-9200 or e-mail Katie Ellis, Managing Director, at katieellis@berrycenter.org.

Henry County Cattleman's Association to meet

The Henry County Cattleman's Association was formed in the year 2001 to advance the beef cattle industry through education and networking opportunities.

They will be conducting their 14th annual meeting on Monday, Oct. 27, at 6:30 pm, at the Henry County Extension Office.

For the past 13 years, the Henry County Cattleman's Association has provided much to Henry County.

Regular meetings and annual field days provide opportunities for cattle producers to fellowship with their industry neighbors, build networks, hear about industry issues and learn methods and techniques which may enhance profitability.

Average attendance at the regular meetings has been close to 100 members and guests.

Popular regular program features have included the Veterinarians Report, an FSA Report, an FFA Report, an Extension Report and updates on the Phase I Agriculture Development Funds (CAIP).

Annual Field Days have rotated between Trimble, Shelby, Oldham, and Henry Counties, with each county Cattleman's Association pitching in to provide educational opportunities on local farms, with attendance bouncing from 150 to over 250 producers from the four counties.

Henry County just hosted the 2014 Regional Field day on Foree's Old Homestead Farm with nearly 250 in attendance.

The Henry County Cattleman's Association has provided the principal conduit for getting Tobacco Phase I Funds (now called CAIP funds) into the hands of Henry County farm families for the entire existence of the program.

Working closely with the Henry County Agriculture Development Council, the Cattleman's Association requests funding for and administers the County Agriculture Investment Program (CAIP).

An average of nearly $300,000 per year has been administered in a 50 percent cost share reimbursement program for approved farm enhancements, with each farm entity limited to a maximum of $2,500 per year.

The benefits of this funding can be seen all across the county in enhanced farm infrastructure. Better cattle handling facilities, fencing, improved forages and better genetics have increased the quality of calves produced in the county.

In addition to the previously mentioned educational and funding programs, the Henry County Cattleman's Association has provided much promotion of their product through providing grilled beef products at fairs, shows and special events. They turn right around and put the proceeds from these activities into youth scholarships. Several Henry County students have received college scholarships to study and pursue agriculture.

To register for the Cattleman's annual meeting on Oct. 27, please contact Kelly at the Henry County Extension Office (845-2811). The sponsored beef supper will be accompanied by the popular reports, election of new directors and an interesting program.

For the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP), the first application cutoff period for consideration for 2015 funds is Nov. 21.

Applications after that date will be held until next period which will be March 20, 2015.

USDA Expands Access to Credit to Help Beginning and Family Farmers

USDA has announced they will improve farm loans by expanding eligibility and increasing lending limits to help more beginning and family farmers.

As part of this effort, USDA is raising the borrowing limit for the microloan program from $35,000 to $50,000; simplifying the lending processes; updating required "farming experience" to include other valuable experiences; and expanding eligible business entities to reflect changes in the way family farms are owned and operated.

The changes become effective Nov. 7.

The microloan changes announced today will allow beginning, small and mid-sized farmers to access an additional $15,000 in loans using a simplified application process with up to seven years to repay.

Microloans are part of USDA's continued commitment to small and midsized farming operations.

Since 2010, USDA has made a record amount of farm loans through FSA — more than 165,000 loans totaling nearly $23 billion. More than 50 percent of USDA's farm loans now go to beginning farmers.

In addition, USDA has increased its lending to socially-disadvantaged producers by nearly 50 percent since 2010.

These programs were made possible by the 2014 Farm Bill. For more information, visit www.usda.gov/farmbill.

Stay well - eat a delicious, healthy apple every day

Fall is known for its abundance of great, fresh foods and apples are among the most popular. You can prepare apples in many different ways and include them as ingredients in main courses, side dishes and desserts.

Not only are apples great additions to any meal, but they are also packed full of nutrients. They are low in calories, fat and sodium, cholesterol free and a great source of fiber. Apples also contain phytochemicals that may help prevent many chronic diseases including cancer, heart disease, asthma and diabetes.

The United States is home to more than 2,500 varieties of apples. Several of those are grown in Kentucky, including Red Delicious, Rome, Winesap, Gala, Jonathan, Cortland and Golden Delicious. You can get Kentucky-grown apples at orchards, farmers markets and some grocery stores across the state. Look for the Kentucky Department of Agriculture's Kentucky Proud label when shopping.

When selecting apples, look for firm, crisp and colorful fruit. Avoid apples with shriveled skins, bruises, worm holes or decayed spots.

Apples last longer in your refrigerator, either in the crisper drawer or in an unsealed plastic bag. You can leave apples out on the counter for a few days, but an extensive period of time at room temperature will cause apples to shrivel and lose flavor and crispness. Store apples separately from vegetables, because apples naturally release small amounts of ethylene gas that can damage lettuce and other produce.

Here's a recipe from the Kentucky Proud program that incorporates apples:

Bone-in Pork Chops with Apples and Onions

Ingredients:
2 Kentucky Proud pork chops, bone-in Salt and pepper, to taste

1 tablespoon olive oil
1 Kentucky Proud apple, sliced
1 Kentucky Proud onion, sliced
1 cup chicken stock or apple cider, to deglaze
1 tablespoon butter, optional

Directions:

1. Pat the pork chops dry with paper towels, and season well with salt and pepper.

2. In a large skillet on high heat, heat olive oil and brown the pork chops well, about 3 to 4 minutes per side. At this point, the pork chops will be well browned, but not cooked all the way through.

3. Transfer chops to a separate platter.

4. Add the apple and onion to the pan, and cook until softened and nicely caramelized.

5. Add chicken stock or apple cider, and scrape food morsels from the surface of the pan.

6. Nestle the pork chops back into the pan, and bring the mixture to a simmer. Simmer until pork chops are cooked through and season with salt and pepper.

7. Add butter to the sauce at the last minute for extra richness, if desired.

And don't forget to visit the Henry County Farmers Market located at the Courthouse on Saturday mornings through October.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

HCHS GIRLS' SOCCER

Lady Cats go 1-1 in final week

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hcllocal.com

The Henry County Lady Cats closed the regular season with two games on the road last week. Monday night they traveled to take on the Frankfort Lady Panthers and came away with a 3-1 win. Wednesday night they traveled to Shelbyville to take on the Collins Lady Titans and fell 4-1.

HCHS 3 Frankfort 1

The Lady Cats started slow but came on strong against the Lady Panthers.

"We didn't play possession soccer like I would like us to play until the second half," Coach Shelby Pfeiffer said.

Frankfort took the lead by getting an early goal, but the Lady Cats came back to take the lead at halftime.

Rachel Vegh scored Henry County's first goal from outside the 18-yard box on the right side of the field. The shot sailed over the keeper and into the left corner of the net.

With the score tied at 1-1, Vegh got another opportunity but the keeper deflected the ball away. Micah Lineman followed in after the shot and got the second goal on the deflection from the keeper to make it 2-1 going into the second half.

Pfeiffer said the team improved after halftime.

"The second half was still pretty ugly but we settled down and played much better," Pfeiffer said.

Lineman got the third and final goal on another follow shot to make it 3-1 and give the Lady Cats their ninth victory of the season.

Pfeiffer praised the play of Lineman after the game.

"Micah has been on an upward climb all year," she said. "I have had to play her in three different positions this season and she hasn't let me down yet. I am very proud of how Micah has played this year and of her growth as a player."

Pfeiffer also praised Vegh.

"Rachel played awesome," Pfeiffer said. "Coming off a knee injury, she was very aggressive and worked really hard on both sides of the ball. It is good to have her back on the field."

Collins 4 HCHS 1

The Lady Cats played short-handed against the Lady Titans as several players missed for injury, illness and other reasons. The Lady Cats had no substitutes on the bench and the eleven who played had to gut out the entire 80 minutes.

To top it all off, the Lady Titans have a large field which meant more running for the Lady Cats' eleven ironwomen.

"We simply did not play smart," Pfeiffer said. "We adjusted our formation to a 4-5-1 to pull more players back to defense and midfield. All Collins would do is make two or three passes out of the back and play a big ball over the top and they would run onto it."

"We left too many gaps in our defense and they were able to split us a lot," she continued. "We didn't step up in midfield and stop the big ball over the top so we had to do a lot of sprinting back which made us tired."

The Lady Titans took advantage of the over the top balls to score three goals in the first half.

According to Pfeiffer, she delivered a fiery halftime speech that the players responded to.

"Going into the second half the girls were a lot more fired up," Pfeiffer said. "The girls fought and played so much harder the second half. Their fourth goal did not come until about 12 minutes left in the game."

The Lady Cats continued to play hard and got their reward with five minutes to go.

"Collins had a breakdown in their defense," Pfeiffer said. "They passed the ball through the middle of the field and Micah Hardin intercepted the pass and chipped the keeper right outside the 18-yard box. We had several other scoring opportunities in the second half but could only convert that one."

Pfeiffer had praise for the substitutes who had to step in a play an entire game.

"I was very proud of Terralynn Smith and Laura Gregory," she said. "They played an entire game and didn't complain once. They worked hard the entire game and did exactly what I asked of them."

Pfeiffer also had praise for some of her regulars.

"Sophie Hughes, Rachel, Micah Lineman and Izzy Miller all played awesome too," Pfeiffer said. "Sophie made lots of awesome saves. Rachel had to play a different role in the middle of the field and this was probably the most active I have ever seen her play."

"Micah started in the middle of the field and I had to move her to outside back and she played awesome there," she continued. "I am so proud of her for her ability to be versatile. Izzy played as demanding as she always does. Izzy is our engine and I love how she plays. Though she may be little, she plays fiercely."

The Lady Cats ended the regular season with a 9-6 record overall and 5-1 in district play.

HCHS VOLLEYBALL

HC falls to Western Hills, Trimble

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hcllocal.com

The Henry County Lady Cats' volleyball team traveled to Frankfort Oct. 7 to take on the Western Hills Lady Wolverines and fell 25-20, 25-23, 25-18.

"I felt like we were very evenly matched in this one," Coach Katie Ruff said. "However, at times, we lacked focus and desire to win."

The coach did point out some positive play by several players.

"I thought Victoria Marcum played really well and got to several balls that I didn't think anyone could."

"Teagan Fish also had some really good hits and some great blocks," Ruff continued. "She is doing very well at the middle position. Paige DeBurger played very consistently and was always ready to hit. Molly Williamson was a great asset in our back row and had some really nice digs and serves."

Ruff said that weather conditions played a role in the outcome.

"The game was interrupted by a tornado warning and we had to evacuate the gym," she said. "At that point I think we lost a lot of momentum."

Thursday night the Lady Cats traveled to Bedford to take on the Trimble County Lady Raiders and fell 25-14, 25-19.

Ruff was pleased to take part in another game to raise awareness about breast cancer.

"They had their 'Pink Out' game, which was very nicely done and we were glad to be a part of it."

As for the game, the coach went back to a recurring theme.

Molly Williamson goes for the save against Trimble.

"We started out slow but had some really good volleys at times," Ruff said. "Trimble has some great hitters and we just weren't able to set up the ball as often as we needed to in order to beat them. Again, I think there were times we beat ourselves because of a lack of focus and desire to win."

Ramos' serve," Bullock said. "We also did a good job of minimizing our errors. Roxana and Emily accounted for 18 of our 25 points in this game."

According to Bullock, Bryant stepped up in game three, which the Warriors won 25-22.

"Sarah Bryant had an excellent game on the net," Bullock said. "She had a few blocks and accounted for seven points."

"Overall, we played excellent Warrior volleyball," she continued. "It was good to see how far we have come from the beginning of the year to where we are now. We played tough and aggressive."

KCD 2 EHS 0

Two nights later the Warriors traveled to Louisville to play Kentucky Country Day and the performance was much different.

The Bearcats took the first game 25-12 and the Warriors could not completely recover, falling 25-21 in the second game.

"We played scared and tentative," Bullock said. "We made mental mistakes and did not move well on the court. You can always tell when we are struggling because we miss a few serves and watch a few balls hit the back row without making an attempt."

Bullock felt the team lacked energy to start and tried to pull themselves out of it without much luck.

"The girls tried to get pumped up and excited for the game but, overall, the energy level was very low," she said. "The fight we had shown in the district games of late was nonexistent. The longest rally we had was six points in the first game from Daphna Dale's serve which gave us some momentum going into game two. We came up sort in the second game even though we played much better."

Portland Christian 3 EHS 0

The Warriors returned home for the final game of the season against Portland Christian and celebrated senior night for the seven girls playing their last regular season game.

After a nice ceremony honoring the seven seniors and their super fan, Shorty Robinson, a much improved and hustling Lady Eagles team stunned the Warriors.

The Warriors started slow, falling behind 6-2 and trailed most of the way until they finally tied the score at 17. Portland Christian then scored three points in a row to recover momentum.

The Warriors came back again and tied it at 21. The teams traded points until the score reached 25-25

At that point, a kill by the Lady Eagles and an EHS error ended the game in favor of the Lady Eagles.

The Lady Eagles continued to hustle after loose balls and get timely hits in the second game while the Warriors continued to struggle to get any momentum going. Portland Christian pulled out to a 20-13 lead before the Warriors made a rally to cut it to 21-19 on two straight aces by Coomes.

But the Warriors would get no closer as the Lady Eagles pulled out the 25-21 win.

In game three the Warriors got out to big lead after a close start.

With the game tied at 9-9 the Warriors went on a 12-3 run to go up 21-12 and it seemed that the team was on their way to extending the match.

However, Portland Christian came back to score the next six points to make it 21-18.

After a Lady Eagle hitting error broke the run, the Warriors could not take advantage and a tip by Portland Christian got the serve back with the score at 22-19. The Lady Eagles scored the next three points to tie the score at 22 before the Warriors called timeout. After the timeout Portland Christian served an ace to take the lead. From there they scored two of the next three points to win the match in stunning fashion.

"This one was hard to swallow," Bullock said. "If I could have written the end of the story, I would have written it a little differently. The girls deserved to win on their Senior Night but did not play up to their potential. I haven't been able to figure it out but it was similar to the KCD game."

"I'm not sure if they felt like just because it was Senior Night and they had already beaten them at the beginning of the season, if they automatically deserved to win."

Bullock was not happy with any aspect of the team's play.

"They did not fight for the game," she said. "We had too many missed serves and too many mental mistakes to overcome."

But the Warriors' coach gave credit to Portland Christian.

"They were very scrappy and kept plays alive that most people in the gym didn't think was possible," Bullock said. "Their intensity, their cheering section and their aggressive play seemed to intimidate us."

Bullock wants to look forward rather than dwelling on the game.

"We have a break for a few days," she said. "I encouraged the girls to clear their heads and spend time with friends and family. When we resume, we start with a clean slate. We have something that we have to prove and some hardware to win. I think our season has prepared us for districts. I think we are very much capable of winning district if we set our minds to it and play together. We are excited for the postseason and look forward to the journey we create for ourselves."

half and quickly put the game out of reach.

The Hawks fumbled on their first play from scrimmage in the third quarter and Andrew Mahoney came up with the loose ball to give the Wildcats the ball on the 17-yard line with 11:50 to go. After a 13-yard run by Hartsell, Bodie Clark got the call and scored from the four-yard line. Trevyn Spencer threw the conversion pass to Cameron Johnson to make it 21-0.

On the Hawks next offensive play they fumbled again and this time Clark came up with it to put the Wildcats' offense in business again at the 22-yard line. On the first play after the fumble, Spencer hit a wide-open Johnson for the touchdown. The PAT attempt failed and the Cats led 27-0 with 11:04 to go in the third period.

The Hawks could not move the ball on their next possession and had to punt it away.

Henry County got good field position again and scored on a 25-yard touchdown pass from Spencer to Gavin Black. Hagan ran in the conversion attempt to make it 35-0 with 6:50 left.

The Wildcats' stifling defense again stopped the Hawks drive quickly and Henry County went on the attack again.

Hartsell scored on a 28-yard run to make it 41-0 with 3:22 left.

From that point the clock ran continuously and both sides played their second teams. The Hawks had one promising drive in the fourth quarter but it was snuffed out by a Dylan Mayer interception.

The Henry County running back corps of Hartsell, Hagan, Clark and Fish had another big night but it was the offensive line that Coach Jason Spencer wanted to talk about after the game.

"Our offensive line of Timmy Powell, Brandon Payton, Patrick Cravens, Noah Webster and Jeffrey Warren had another great game," Spencer said. "When you add Cameron Johnson and Gavin Black in our double tight end set, it makes for a formidable job for the other team's defense. Our line is fabulous. They come off the ball hard and they enjoy what they do. They've been together for a couple of years now and that really benefits what we are trying to do."

As for the defense, Spencer had few words but said a lot.

"Our defense dominated," he said. "LaRue had 76 yards of total offense. Andrew Mahoney and Gavin Black played well but it is really hard to pick out individuals when we swarm to the ball as well as we do."

Spencer thinks that the team has an intangible going in its favor.

"They play for the guy on their right and the guy on their left," Spencer said. "They don't care who gets the credit and that is what makes this group special. We are number two in the state in yards rushing and we don't have a single individual in the top ten in the state. And they don't care."

Spencer looked ahead to this week's big matchup at home against Central.

"This game could decide the district championship," Spencer said. "This will be our 'Blackout' game. We encourage everyone to wear black to show unified support for the team. The weather is supposed to be better and I would like to see the bleachers filled for this one."

back for their only touchdown on their next possession on a 3-yard run. The score was set up by a long catch and run for the Polar Bears. Bracken failed on their conversion attempt to make it 16-6 with 11:25 left in the half.

The Warriors did not take long to come back for another score as Bailey got free on a 25-yard run to make it 22-6 just two minutes later.

Any doubts about the outcome were quickly ended when Travis Bell intercepted a pass for the Warriors on Bracken's next possession and Mathis capitalized on the turnover by scoring from 23 yards out to make it 28-6.

The Warriors had a couple of promising drives snuffed out by penalties in the third quarter but came back for two touchdowns in the final period to earn their first win of the season and move to 1-0 in district play.

Bailey scored from 30 yards out with 8:57 left and Garduno added the two-point run to make it 36-6.

With 1:49 left, Garduno got his reward for all the hard running on the night when he went in from three yards out. Cameron Capps got the conversion score to make it 44-6.

While the Warriors got good performances from many players, one defender stood out. Doug Quire was credited with 9.5 tackles on the night with several of those being sacks of the Bracken quarterback.

"Dougie is a 155-pound linebacker," Coach Paul McDowell said. "He is a sophomore who came out when school started, so he should be a little behind the others, but he just has a nose for the football. He is hard-nosed and very determined and has no fear. He practices very well, is very coachable and is just a good kid."

Other standouts on defense included

Garduno, who had seven tackles and Tyrei Hanlon, A.J. Shaw and Cody Payton who had four tackles each.

Garduno, Mathis and Bailey racked up a combined 367 yards running for a 9.6-yard average.

Mathis had eight carries for 119 yards and Bailey had 11 carries for 113 yards.

But it was a night for the fullback to get the tough yards and Garduno stood out.

"Marcos stepped in for Trent at fullback and gave us a spark," McDowell said. "He is the most vocal kid on the field for us."

But McDowell did not want to dwell on individual performances.

"Marcos, DeMarcus, Cameron and Dougie played well but we had so many kids step up tonight," he said. "It was a total team effort. It was good for the kids to get a win. It will give them confidence going into the next game against Paris. We will need to tackle well in that game. They have a very good running back."

about his top player and granddaughter, MacKenzie.

"A lot of people don't understand the pressure that is put on players, not only by coaches, parents and fans, but pressure the players put on themselves," Peyton said. "When you are a top player in any sport, people expect you to win or perform every time out and golf is no different. I think MacKenzie has lived up to every expectation and more."

The coach went on to list some of her bigger accomplishments which include qualifying for and playing in two U.S. Kids' World Championships at Pinehurst, North Carolina, being named KGA and Pepsi Tour player of the year, winning a Hurricane College Prep Tournament in Alabama and a Golfweek College Prep Tournament in Ohio, winning at least 10 high school tournaments over the last two years, winning the Fifth Region Tournament this year, winning four consecutive NCKC tournaments and finishing in the top 30 at the state tournament in her eighth-grade year, top 20 in her freshman year, top 10 in her sophomore year, second in her junior year and fifth in her senior year.

"It has been one of the best experiences of my coaching career to coach a player of this caliber and ability and for it to be a family member just adds to the fun," Peyton said. "Sometimes there was pressure applied to both of us to make sure we were doing what was best not only for MacKenzie but also what was best for the team.

"MacKenzie will continue her golf at the University of South Alabama in the Sun Belt Conference and hopes to some day qualify and play in the NCAA tournament and I am sure that will happen."

Cats fall to Frankfort

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hcllocal.com

The Henry County Wildcat soccer team closed out the regular season with a trip to Frankfort to take on the Frankfort High School Panthers and were done in by a slow start as Frankfort prevailed 4-0.

The Panthers put three goals in the net in the opening half to take a commanding lead.

"Frankfort had great size and quick feet," Coach Bobby Jameson said. "They were very talented with their footwork. They scored all three goals in the first half with set plays. We didn't do a good job defensively of playing our roles. We chased players man-to-man instead of staying in our areas."

The Wildcats regrouped at halftime according to Jameson.

"We played much better in the second half," he said. "Defensively, we were lost in the first half but in the second half we got things straightened out."

The Panthers managed to get another goal late in the game to set the final margin.

"We couldn't get anything going offensively because we were backed up most of the game because they pushed a lot of players forward and were very quick."

"We did have some chances on goal but their goalkeeper was very good."

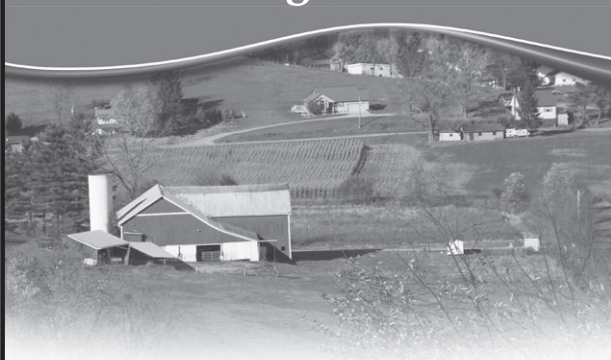

Jameson said the game featured a lot of contact.

"It was the most physical game that I've ever been a part of," Jameson said. "Both teams played very physical. But there was only one yellow card in the game and it was on them."

Jameson was happy with his team's effort despite the loss.

"We played hard and never quit until the game was over," he said. "Charles Taylor stood out because he played well and was willing to meet the challenge of their physicality."

The Wildcats dominated the rest of the half but almost came away with nothing to show for it. The Cats had two long touchdown runs, one by Hagan and one by Mason Fish, called back because of penalties.

The Eminence Warriors hosted Bracken County Friday night in a driving rainstorm that left the Polar Bears wishing they were the Mighty Ducks.

The Warriors appeared unfazed by all the water as they ran for several long touchdowns in a 44-6 win.

Peyton finishes fifth in state tourney

Hensley competes in first round

BY GREG WOODS
sports@hclocal.com

MacKenzie Peyton went into the KHSAA state golf tournament in Bowling Green Oct. 7 and 8 as one of the favorites and hovered in the top ten for two days. But Peyton could never get a string of birdies going and wound up in a three-way tie for fifth place with two other contenders, Anna Hack, the 2012 winner, and Maddie Hamilton of Sacred Heart, who tied with Peyton for second in last year's tournament.

The first round of the tournament was a roller coaster ride for Peyton as she had four bogeys and three birdies to finish with a 1-over 73.

The second day was far more consistent for Peyton but she could not get many good birdie attempts and had to settle for 16 pars, a double bogey and a birdie for another 73 to finish at 2-over for the tournament.

Madison Thomas of Shelby County ran away with the tournament on the second day with a 68 that left her with a two-day total that was five strokes under par. Lauren Hartlage of Elizabethtown was second at one-under.

Everyone went into the second day thinking that they would have to shoot a great number to be in contention when Hack went out and shot a 67 on the first day of the tournament. Only Thomas with a 71 joined Hack under par. Hack shot 79 on the second day to fall away and leave Thomas and Hartlage battling for the title.

Thomas birdied five of the final eight holes to end the drama and walk away with a state championship.

Peyton was joined in the first round by teammate Maddie Hensley, an eighth-grader making her third appearance in Bowling Green. Hensley was in the first group to tee off and played in wet, miserable conditions for the first half of her round. She ended up shooting 92 and missed the cut.

"We were disappointed that Maddie did not make the cut for the second round but very pleased with the way she held her composure and fought through the rain and tough conditions," Coach William Peyton said. "Maddie will have plenty of time to show her talents in the years to come. She had a tremendous year, finishing as runner-up in the NCKC tournament and qualifying for the state tournament and more awards are probably to follow."

The Warriors got the convincing win despite missing Kennedy Fitzgerald who was out with an illness.

Sarah Bryant filled in for Fitzgerald and played middle hitter while Emily Coomes moved to outside hitter.

The Warriors came out aggressively according to Coach Morgan Bullock and kept control of momentum throughout the match.

"We put pressure on them and caused them to get frustrated and make errors," Bullock said.

The Warriors took game one 27-25.

"The first game was very close and we battled for every point," Bullock said. "We made it hard on ourselves by committing more errors than they did and kept allowing them to get back in the game."
